

PERSON CHENEY, ONE OF DIXON'S PIONEERS, PASSED AWAY TODAY

VENERABLE GENTLEMAN PASSED AWAY AT HOME OF HIS DAUGHTER AT 8 O'CLOCK

FUNERAL ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Services Will Be Held at Home, 523 College Ave., at 2:30 o'clock
By Rev. Grant

In the death of Person Cheney this morning at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Barbara Fry, 523 College avenue, one of the old time residents of the city was taken from a community where he had been of great usefulness.

For the past four years he had been confined to the house the greater part of the time, and for the past several months has been able to leave his bed but a few times. During all this time he was a patient sufferer and he awaited the inevitable with great fortitude. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of Mrs. Fry, Rev. Frederick Grant of the Episcopal church officiating.

OBITUARY

Mr. Cheney was born at Holderness (now Ashland) Grafton county, New Hampshire, May 19, 1831, a son of Person and Anna Wadleigh Cheney also natives of the Granite state. He grew up in his native county, receiving a practical education in its schools. For some time in early manhood he was engaged as a paper maker, but he soon hit upon the vocation for which he was so admirably adapted by nature, as hotel keeper, and conducted that business with success for many years. His first attempt in that business was as proprietor of the Waverly house, of which he took charge soon after coming to Dixon in 1850, the hotel being the property of the Northwestern Railroad company, and was located just south of the old depot at the foot of Depot avenue. He conducted this hotel for eighteen years and then went to Missouri Valley, Ia., to take charge of a hotel the railroad company had erected there, known as the Union hotel, and was located at that place for a number of years. On retiring from the hotel business he returned to Dixon and took up residence on a farm which he purchased in South Dixon. He remained on the farm until about one year ago, when he came to Dixon, where he has since resided.

Mr. Cheney was united in marriage Nov. 17, 1857, to Harriet Frances Burnham of Wentworth, Grafton Co., N. H., who preceded him in death on Jan. 20, 1901. To this union three children were born, Charles and Henry, who died young, and Samuel T., who died about four years ago.

Mr. Cheney was possessed of an energetic, a determined spirit, quick to grasp and make his own the most accurate business methods. He was always happy and courteous with all his business associates and he made many friends and especially was this true during the many years when he was in the hotel business. After retiring to the farm he began improving his land and his residence was made thoroughly modern.

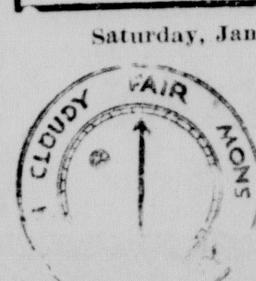

One of the prominent traits of Mr. Cheney was his willingness to extend the helping hand to one in need. Many are the charitable acts that he has done in a quiet way. During the Civil war he was conducting the Waverly House and there was never a man wearing the garb of a soldier who ever had occasion to stop at his hotel in those trying days from whom he would accept pay for a meal or lodging.

Was Supervisor

Mr. Cheney was a member of the board of supervisors for six years and his services there were found

County Clerk Dimick expects to start turning over books next Thursday.

He will have his office at the Union State bank and expects to open the office on Monday morning, Jan. 31. It will take a few days to get the books indexed and to issue statements of the personal tax.

SUBSCRIBERS RETAIN OLD PHONE NUMBERS

WORKMEN TO CALL EACH PHONE IN MAKING CONNECTIONS TO THE BOARD.

SERVICE WITHIN COMING WEEK

Subscribers of the Dixon Home Telephone company will retain their old numbers with the resumption of the company's service. Manager Pitcher announced today that in making connections to the switchboard, which is now fully set up in the temporary quarters in the Schuler building, the workmen would in every case, after picking up a pair of wires in the cable, call the phone and ascertain the name of the subscriber and the old number.

It is not improbable that the entire service will be resumed by a week from today, and it is certain that many phones will be in use early in the week. The cable for the extension, weighing 5,000 pounds, arrived yesterday and the extension to the new switchboard was made today.

GIRL, 14, PREVENTED BAD TRAIN WRECK

DISCOVERED BROKEN RAIL AT CHERRY VALLEY AND NOTIFIED TOWERMAN.

Belvidere, Jan. 21—Miss Gladys Clifford, a Cherry Valley school girl, 14 years of age, notices things and because of this commendable habit a Northwestern passenger train was saved from a possible wreck Wednesday morning.

Miss Clifford was on her way to school about 9 a.m. when in passing the interlocking switch at the point where the Northwestern and interurban roads cross at the east end of the two bridges, she noticed that something was out of order with the switch and on closer examination found that the end of one of the rails had been broken off, by the last train, which was a freight.

The girl hurried up into the tower and informed Towerman Reid of what she had found, and with the assistance of others temporarily repaired the track before the arrival of the 9:29 east bound train, which probably would have been ditched had not the broken rail been discovered in time.

WASH-OUT ON THE PEORIA LINE

Two Feet of Water Over Tracks At Langley Stops Traffic.

The high water caused much trouble along the Peoria line of the Northwestern road and there is a big washout of the track near Langley, thirty miles south of Nelson. There is nearly two feet of water over the tracks at that point and no trains came up from the south during the night. The Peoria passenger ran south as far as Langley this morning.

FOURTEEN KILLED IN WESTERN SNOWSLIDE

GREAT WESTERN TRAIN IS CARRIED DOWN EMBANKMENT 300 FEET HIGH.

(Associated Press)

Seattle, Jan. 22—While standing on a slope of the Cascades near the summit of the mountains, 150 miles from here, the Cascade Limited on the Great Northern railroad, bound from Seattle, was struck by a snowslide.

Some of the cars were carried down the 300 foot embankment, the engine, baggage car and observation car not being buried.

The cries for help from the cars in the gulch can be heard above and two dead and three injured have been taken from the dining car, which it is reported is burning.

The slide occurred at 11:15 o'clock this morning near the point where a train was swept from the tracks last February with great loss of life.

St. Paul, Jan. 22—Great Northern officials here reported that possibly 14 were killed in the wreck of the Cascade Limited. President Hill said the sleeper was thrown on its side, while the diner and chair car went over the bank. It is reported ten people were in the chair car, six in the sleeper and employees and some passengers were in the diner.

ECKERT IS NOW SUPERINTENDENT

Former Deputy Sheriff in Ogle County is Given Position.

Byron, Jan. 22—The county farm committee of the supervisors of Ogle county met in Oregon Tuesday and decided to recommend the appointment of John Eckert as county farm superintendent to succeed C. H. Ebebenner, who died Jan. 5. The next meeting of the supervisors is on Feb. 9th, but a special meeting may be called as it is imperative that Mr. Eckert know before that time whether he will receive the appointment or not.

Mr. Eckert has served as supervisor of Ogle county and a year ago was appointed deputy sheriff of the staff of Sheriff W. B. Mackey of Ogle county.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Robert Harper of Rock Falls and son Robert spent the day in this city.

H. H. Heinze of the I. N. U. is confined to his bed by sickness.

G. G. MESSER CALLED BY HIS MAKER AFTER TWO MONTHS ILLNESS

TAPS SOUNDED FOR BELOVED OLD SOLDIER AT EARLY HOUR TODAY.

WAS BAILIFF OVER NINE YEARS

Organized First Militia Company in Dixon and Was Its First Captain.

Shortly after daybreak this morning George Gilbert Messer answered the final summons at his home, 408 East First street, the end coming at 6:15 o'clock. He accompanied the Inlet jury as bailiff, inspecting land the fore part of December and he contracted a cold, which developed into pneumonia. He gradually improved for two weeks following Christmas and was able to sit up. A week ago last Sunday he was again taken to his bed and he expired this morning, death resulting from Bright's disease. The funeral will be held at 2:30 p.m., Monday from his late home.

George Gilbert Messer was born in Hopkinton, New Hampshire, in July, 1844, hence was past 72 years of age. When a small child his parents came to Illinois and settled on a farm in South Dixon township. Mr. Messer was but 18 years of age when the civil war broke out and when the call came for men he enlisted with the Seventy-fifth Illinois infantry in this city and was later elected sergeant of Company A. He took part in many engagements but escaped unhurt. At the close of the war he returned to Dixon and remained with his father on the farm until his death in 1899, when he and his brother Frank conducted the farm. About fifteen years ago they gave up active work there and moved to this city.

Mr. Messer served as court bailiff under Sheriff A. T. Tourtillott, C. P. Reid and up to the time of his death under R. R. Phillips, nine years in all. During this time he has with few exceptions opened every term of circuit court. He was a painstaking officer and was held in highest regard by all who knew him. It was through the efforts of Mr. Messer that the first militia company was organized in this city and he was elected its first captain, receiving his commission from Richard Oglesby, the war governor. He was a member of Dixon Post G. A. R. and also of the Dixon lodge of Elks.

He leaves to mourn his death two sisters and a brother. They are Mrs. Anna Fitch of Chicago; Miss Ruth A. and Frank F. Messer of this city.

"Gib" Messer's friends were a host. His straightforward, kindly nature made him beloved by all who knew him, and there is sincere mourning in every heart today because of his passing.

NO BALKAN NEWS.

There is a paucity of direct news from the Balkans.

There is considerable discussion in Germany of separate peace for Belgium. Frankfort newspapers make a suggestion that Belgium ought not to wait too long.

WILSONS ON CRUISE

(Associated Press)

Washington, Jan. 22—President and Mrs. Wilson left on a two days' cruise on the Chesapeake Bay, where the president will prepare drafts of the speeches he will deliver on preparedness. He will probably make a number of platform speeches from the train in towns and cities in the middle west and not on the itinerary for formal addresses.

STEAMSHIP ON FIRE

(Associated Press)

New York, Jan. 22—The Norwegian steamer Sygna which sailed yesterday for Archangel with a large cargo for the Russian government, put back into New York today with fire in her hold. It is believed the fire, the origin of which is a mystery, is under control. The ship was laden with railroad supplies and had no war munitions aboard, officials of the company said.

Rehearsal Of Elks' Show Resembled Real Production

The Committee Was Especially Pleased By Manner In Which Show Went

The rehearsal of the Elks' charity show last evening was especially gratifying to the committee, inasmuch as the entire performance was put on, and it went through without a hitch at any stage. In fact the performance was fully as good as professional performances, and it is certain that with the final dress rehearsal the members of the company will have reached a degree of perfection never before attained by an Elks' company.

The seat sale has been remarkably good considering the fact that there have been no reservists by phone as in former years, and two packed houses are assured the performers. But while the sale has been very large there are still scores of excellent seats available for each evening, but it is quite probable that these will be taken to-night.

UNARMED AMERICAN KILLED BY MEXICANS

CATTLE THIEVES SHOT BERT AKERS, MEMBER OF SEARCHING PARTY.

ABOUT 200 SHOTS WERE FIRED

Ysleta, Tex., Jan. 22—Douglas Downs, companion of Bert Akers who was killed yesterday by Mexican cattle thieves near San Lorenzo, Chihuahua, was found at the home of Mrs. J. Murphy, a sister of the widow of the slain man. He said five Mexicans fired 200 shots at them.

Neither of the Americans war armed, he said, and the Mexican detective from El Paso who was detailed to help them find stolen cows, was the only one armed. They were searching for six cows which were stolen from the small Murphy ranch near Ysleta.

The Duran brothers, who are being held in Juarez charged with the shooting, formerly lived here. Gen. Gariva, the commandant at Juarez, said the Durans claim self defense and say they didn't know there was a Mexican officer present. "I have sent the police to bring the body of the American to Juarez," said the general. "In my opinion the men were cattle thieves. If they are found guilty they will receive proper punishment."

CABARET SINGER AT ANNUAL MOOSE FAIR

JOHN TALBOT OF CHICAGO WILL BE FEATURE DURING THE COMING WEEK.

John Talbot, the Chicago cabaret singer, arrived here today at noon. He has been engaged by the Loyal Order of Moose to help entertain their guests at the big bazaar starting to-night and continuing all next week.

Mr. Talbot will sing all the latest song successes. He has a very pleasing voice in addition to an exceptional personality.

The committee in charge of the bazaar has worked hard to make everything just right for the people who will patronize their entertainment. There will be many features added to the various night's entertainments during the coming week. In fact every night will be a feature event in itself.

ON TRIAL

If a jury of the greatest Mechanical engineers in the nation should, after carefully examining a car, say to you: "This is mechanically the BEST Car we have seen," you would be convinced. Here is a jury which bought the car after inspecting it:

Few of these men were approached by our salesmen. Most of them made the acquaintance of the NEW MITCHELL by riding in a friend's car. Delighted by the marvelous easy-riding qualities of the car, attracted by its

to the slightest urge of the driver--by all its USE qualities, they examined minutely its mechanical design, tested severely the details of its construction, gave it road tests of a severity which your use would never require, subjected it to a scrutiny so searching that a defect if existent MUST be found, and all this far removed from our influence and quite without our knowledge. And in every instance they said at the end "THAT'S the car I want." Then they came to us and bought NEW MITCHELLS. Most engineers are PAID to give an opinion. These engineers paid us.

603 DEPOT AVE.

FRED C. WAGNER

PHONE 478, DIXON

We print the names of some of them below. Read them—and REMEMBER for one of these men to buy the wrong car would be about as absurd as for a member of the famous firm of Tiffany & Co. to wear a paste diamond. And price to these men is an incident. They would gladly have paid $3,000 or more for the CAR THEY WANTED—and, in fact, they have done so in previous years before the NEW MITCHELL set a NEW standard of value and a NEW standard of performance which DIDN'T EXIST before the first of last June.

Thousands of Salesmen

You see them all over. If you have a friend who has one, ask him how he likes it. Take a ride in it. That is what sells cars for us. Week before last the New York agent sold $100,000 worth of cars in one week—about the poorest month of the year for automobile sales. He sold them to men who had been riding in NEW MITCHELL cars owned by their friends. They found SOMETHING NEW in the way the car rode and drove. They found a light, graceful swiftness, more like a swallow than like the old idea of a car. They found a billowy softness of riding more sweeping, uplifting and yachtlike than any car had ever given them. They found a graceful beauty—an evident thoroughbred CLASS that made other cars look clumsy and crude. What they found made them want a NEW MITCHELL so BADLY that they couldn't wait until Spring. They wanted them THEN, and they came in and got NEW MITCHELLS THEN, for he had provided for just this landslide by buying nearly twice as many more NEW MITCHELLS after he had sold his first $1,000,000 worth in five months and SAW the landslide on its way.

The Hard Ones

There are hard customers in every business. Just think for a moment of the hard ones in YOUR business. We have had our share. Some have come in to us after riding in a friend's NEW MITCHELL and said, "Yes, it certainly is a big, beautiful car. It is the easiest riding car I have ever sat in. It is the sweetest driving car I have ever had my hands on. BUT what about the mechanical excellence of its design inside? What about the materials used in its construction?" We sold them cars and now they are the loudest NEW MITCHELL boosters of all. We sold them because we have the PROOF here of the NEW MITCHELL superiority, irrespective of price. And this experience, with the Hard Ones, is what prompted this advertisement. It is written for the man who has the same question in mind, but HAS NOT YET COME in so we CAN show him the proof. For him we print below the names of the jury of experts whose use of NEW MITCHELL cars SETTLES it in the mind of any thinking man.

The Best of All

Perhaps you have never yet owned a car. Perhaps you do not want to keep a chauffeur and have little mechanical inclination yourself. Perhaps you want your wife to drive. Perhaps you are a one-time car owner, a little embittered by a sad and expensive experience with an unsatisfactory car. If you are any of these it is FOR YOU we say, "We GUARANTEE the Service." The NEW MITCHELL needs no such backing. It stays NEW—it stays YOUNG—but nevertheless, for all the long years in the Motor Industry that I have spent in building CONFIDENCE among my customers, it has been my policy and my practice to see that the man who bought from me got all he thought he bought, all he HOPED for, and a LOT that very often he didn't even expect. This, then, is for you. "WE GUARANTEE the Service." If your wife drives all day on first speed—if she starts on high with the emergency brake full on—"WE GUARANTEE the Service." If because of this your engine knocks, "We GUARANTEE the Service." If you don't know a grease cup from a spark plug, "We GUARANTEE the Service." When you buy a NEW MITCHELL you are RIGHT—the greatest engineering brains in the nation say so—they bought themselves. When you buy a NEW MITCHELL you are SAFE. I say so and sign my name to it. I will sell you a car that you will be proud of, that you will be happy in, that will give you wonderful splendid motoring days—that is what we mean when we say "We GUARANTEE the Service."

Two teams were hitched to the rack and the mud and water didn't have a chance to stop the pleasure of the ride. Mrs. Crawford, and three of the teachers, Misses Kristofferson, and Christianson, and Mr. Ferguson, chaperoned. Games and a hunger-satisfying luncheon—for no one needed an appetizer after the ride—were enjoyed. Eight of the boys remained at the summer home as house guests of George Crawford for the night.

OFFICE HELD UP IN HEART OF CHICAGO

Bandit Kills Two and Escapes with Money.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—A lone bandit held up and robbed the offices of Thomas Cook and Sons, tourist agents, 15 East Jackson boulevard, late in the afternoon, shot and dangerously wounded the cashier, E. L. Walsh, shot and killed Policeman B. A. Johnson, who attempted to block him at the entrance, and finally escaped with $900. A woman accomplice, who sat at the wheel of an automobile near the curbstone, jumped from the motor and disappeared in the crowds. State street was filled with homeward-bound shoppers at the time. The shooting caused the wildest panic. The ticket office is but a few feet east of State street.

Walsh started to reach for a revolver when the robber ordered everybody to hold up their hands. Immediately there was a report and Walsh fell, with a bullet in his chest. The robber seized the pile of bills and backed toward the door. Policeman Johnson reached the doorway just as the robber was stepping out. As Johnson started to seize him the robber fired, the bullet passing through his heart. Johnson fell dying on the door-step.

The robber then ran east where another machine was standing, not being able to reach the one awaiting him. He jumped into the seat beside the driver and ordered him to drive away. A mile away he jumped out and disappeared.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATE

Look at tongue! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturaly cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated, this is asure sign its little stomach, liver and bowel need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system; and you are well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Co."

BRITAIN TO TIGHTEN CONTROL OF SEAS

Figures on Neutral Country Im- portations Explained.

London, Jan. 22.—Whatever change is made in the British orders-in-council, it is absolutely certain that the grip of British sea power on Germany will be tightened rather than loosened.

This is the opinion expressed in a high quarter of the British government which is not yet convinced that the orders-in-council are not the best methods for bringing economic pressure to bear on the central powers. It is clear now that the foreign office will not come to any decision until it lays a complete defense of the present operation of the orders-in-council before the house of commons, and this will not be done until the compulsion debate is ended.

At that time the recently published figures showing exports to neutral countries having access to Germany, will be vigorously attacked. Most of these figures, according to statements made in official circles here, apply to months preceding the actual adoption and enforcement of the orders-in-council and also ignore the fact that millions of bushels of wheat that formerly found their way to these countries from Russia, now must be replaced from the United States and Argentina.

The robbery then ran east where another machine was standing, not being able to reach the one awaiting him. He jumped into the seat beside the driver and ordered him to drive away.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 22.—The semi-official

Trans-Ocean News bureau says:

"Competent German authorities declare that during December 24 ships, among which were one British auxiliary cruiser and two British transports, totaling 104,764 tons, were destroyed by Austro-German fleets. Reliable reports regarding ships destroyed by mines and collisions are still lacking. The real losses of the entente allies in the aggregate probably will not be less than 130,000 tons."

There are resolutions before the state committee for action which call for increases all the way from 5 to 20 cents, it was said.

PROGRESSIVISM AS A JIMMY.

Instead of a bomb of destruction for the republican party, progressivism is to be a jimmy to force an entrance in order to carry off the prize of the party once sought to be destroyed.

Let sensible people ask themselves the question: Which party grew after the presidential election of 1912, during the three years Roosevelt was out of republicanism and opposed to it, and in progressivism and inciting it? And which party diminished?

Republicans are asked to let Roosevelt in. The progressive party had him. What good did he do them?

The republican party did not have him. He was against the republican party.

Which party did he help?

Which party did he hurt?

The history of the last four years is full of instruction for anyone who seeks the effect of personality upon the mind of the American voter in the ballot box. It has got to be a matter of votes to defeat Wilson, the present minority president, when he seeks re-election. What effect on votes does the identification of Mr. Roosevelt with a political party have, and what effect on votes does his hostility to that party have?

Naturally he wants to break into the republican party, and has his jimmy in his pocket. But the republican party guards its republicanism, having the fate of the former Roosevelt party as a warning.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

TWO FINE MEN ARE TAKEN.

Death took big toll from Dixon during last night when Person Cheney and Gilbert G. Messer were called to their final rest, and Dixon mourns sincerely for these two splendid men.

Person Cheney exemplified the spirit of the early days in this community when Dixon was struggling to become a town. He was the soul of philosophy and wit and was a courageous and loyal friend. The news that "Per" Cheney, as he was lovingly called by his old friends of former days, is dead, brings true sorrow to the many hearts that loved the big man for his numberless admirable qualities.

There was no man better loved by those who knew him than "Gib" Messer, the veteran of the civil war whose familiar figure will be missed from his office at the court house. "Gib" Messer was a "good fellow" in every true sense of the word. He was a boy at heart and the younger men found him as companionable as the liveliest of their own set. Mr. Messer was an honorary member of the Dixon Press club and the annual meetings of the organization will never be quite the same without the presence of "Gib," who broiled the steaks to a queen's taste and made a big share of the fun for the crowd.

These grand old men cannot be with us always, but their memory will linger as something pleasant while those of us who knew them live.

WIDE DEMAND FOR TAFT.

If President Wilson declines to appoint Mr. Taft to the supreme bench, it will not be for lack of strong argument from any weighty and disinterested quarters. Most of the newspapers of the country recognize the propriety and appropriateness of such an appointment and advocate it cordially. Seven former Presidents of the American Bar association and many other lawyers standing at the head of their profession ask the president to appoint Mr. Taft. No other appointment that the president can make would be recognized by the American bar as so suitable or give such general satisfaction as that of Mr. Taft.

Wholly unexpected petitions have come to the president from Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana disregarding party lines and sectional claims asking a democratic president to appoint the former republican President Taft. It is a situation without precedent in our history.

President Wilson is evidently thinking of naming a democrat. Nevertheless this strong and representative movement for the appointment of Mr. Taft to the place which he long desired and is so capable of filling exceeding well ought to have controlling weight with the president in this altogether exceptional situation.—Philadelphia Press.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story—

Concealed In a Cloud,
Odysseus Explored
a King's Palace.

"PLEASE try to understand," daddy told his children, "how delightful Odysseus found it after suffering the cruelty of giants, sea nymphs, storms and shipwreck on his way home to Ithaca when Minerva led him to the palace of the good king of Corfu. Wrapped in a cloud, so nobody saw him, he spent some happy hours exploring the king's palace before he let the strangers know who he was."

"Tell us what we saw in the palace, daddy?" asked Jack.

"As Odysseus stood in the courtyard and looked at the home of the gentle princess who had given him clothes to travel in, the sight almost dazzled him with its splendor. Through the open palace door brass walls stretched far into gold ones. All doors were gold or silver, beautifully carved, and beside the front door stood a row of gold and silver dogs guarding the entrance. Along the sides of the entrance hall stood wonderful marble seats covered with fine rugs that the fifty slave girls belonging to the palace had woven by hand. For the maidens of Corfu were almost as famous for their beautiful handiwork as the men were for their skill in making ships. As Odysseus looked about he saw others of the fifty maidens, some daintily dusting the palace, others grinding corn for bread and more winding purple wool or making beautiful cloths on the looms, for tunics."

"They were the same girls who did the laundry," Jack remarked.

"Beyond the courtyard stretched a lovely garden four acres big. After cruel waves, just think how Odysseus enjoyed strolling among beautiful pomegranate trees, resting under soft leaved olives and nibbling the apples, figs and pears that lay on the kind earth. Beyond the orchard he could see the vineyard, some vines all bloom and some purple with great bunches of ripe grapes. Alongside were beautiful brown legged boys treading the wine presses, for this was the way ancients squeezed the juice out of grapes for wine. And all around the garden walls and in gorgeous patches of bloom grew flowers of all hues and tropical kinds. Then right in the middle of the garden Odysseus came upon two splendid fountains. One flowed through stone channels all over the place, watering the beautiful trees and flowers, and the other ran out through the courtyard into the street, so that young Greek girls and little boys might come with jugs and get all the water their mothers needed to cook them food."

"What a fairy garden!" cried Evelyn. "Tell us more, daddy!"

"I want to hear how Odysseus met the princess again!" shouted Jack.

But daddy gave the children a bed time hug instead.

MORRISON FIRM HAS CONTRACT

Milk Factory to Ship 150,000 Cases to the German Army.

Morrison, Ill., Jan. 22.—The local Libby McNeil & Libby plant recently received an order for 150,000 cases of condensed milk for the use of the German army, which they will start filling at once. Each case will contain four dozen cans of the 14½ oz. size.

The factory here does not expect to be able to handle this large order alone, as right now they are busily engaged in making up a shipment for China, but they will furnish Germany with all they can.

Sterling, Jan. 22.—The congregation of the Presbyterian church, at the business meeting last night, unanimously voted to purchase the very handsome and splendidly erected residence owned by J. F. Stephan at the corner of Avenue D and W. Fifth street for the manse for the Presbyterian church.

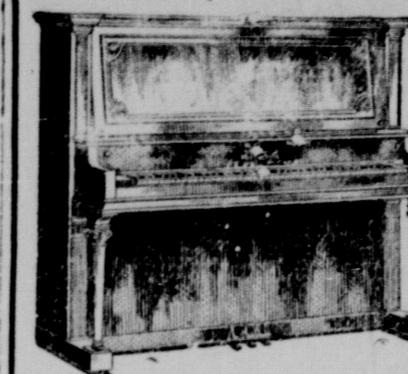

Presbyterian church in close proximity to the church, convenient for the members of the church. The price paid was $5,250, the sum being considered very reasonable. The church will take possession as soon as possible and will be occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Irwin.

ROOF FIRE TODAY.

The fire department was called to the home of Clinton Rhodes on West Chamberlain street at 3 o'clock this afternoon by a roof fire which started from sparks from the chimney. A hole was burned in the roof, the damage being about $35. The fire was discovered by the two Rhodes boys, who were at home alone, and the eldest, remembering that there was a phone in the Enterprise grocery, legged it for the store, while the younger lad stood watch.

to be of great value. He was on the board when the matter to bond the county to build the new court house came up. The best figure at which the bonding houses were willing to accept the $90,000 of bonds was 4½ percent but Mr. Cheney took the decided stand that the money could be gotten for 3½ percent and by his keen business forethought the money was finally gotten at this figure thereby saving the county considerable money.

Public Official

In the early eighties Mr. Cheney's friends influenced him to permit his name to be used in the convention as a candidate to the legislature. Other candidates were Col. Dysart of Franklin Grove and a Mr. Bly of Ashton. The convention is yet familiar in the minds of the men who were in the hall at that time and the three candidates all had loyal friends it required many ballots before a choice was made and Col. Dysart lead with a few votes over Mr. Cheney, thereby getting the nomination.

He represented the old Third ward in the City council in 1864 and in the spring of 1865 was elected as mayor of the city, which office he held for two terms.

Mr. Cheney was one of a family of nine children, all of whom have preceded him in death but two. Those surviving are one brother, Thomas P. Cheney of Ashland, N. H., and one sister, Mrs. Mary Wright of Plymouth, N. H.

HAD FIVE THOUSAND BOOKS IN COURT ROOM

TRIAL OF FAMOUS BOOK SUIT IN CHICAGO OF GREAT INTEREST.

PAID $61,000; WORTH $928?

Chicago, Jan. 22—Judge George A. Carpenter's room in the United States district court resembled a book store receiving a shipment of stock during the trial of a $75,000 suit brought by Harry A. Levingston of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., against William Y. C. Humes and Herbert O. Tomlinson, former owners of the defunct Tomlinson-Humes company, de luxe book dealers, James Plunkett, former company agent, Edward J. McArdle, attorney for Hughes, and Samuel Ward, all of Chicago. The trial opened Jan. 10.

Levingston, who alleged the defendants sold him for $61,000 a set of "Americana," consisting of 5,000 volumes, which he asserted really were worth not more than $1,000. He produced the books. Fifty packing cases were required to transport the sets from New York to Chicago and these cases were piled in the courtroom, where frequently various volumes were produced in evidence of the swindle by the complainant.

Levingston met Humes and Plunkett in New Orleans in May, 1911, he declared when the transaction was arranged. He added that the set was described to him as second in value only to the famous Bancroft collection and that the sale was made on the condition that the defendants would provide purchasers who would be willing to pay as high as $300,000 for the collection.

Frank M. Hopkins, an expert appraiser of book values, testified that his original valuation of the set of "Americana" purchased by Levingston was $928. Efforts of the defense counsel to shake his testimony were futile and when he was quizzed on the details Judge Carpenter interferred, explaining that it was not to be expected that a witness could give such testimony off-hand.

Arguing for a directed verdict of not guilty, counsel for the defendants declared no representations as to the value of the books ever had been made to Levingston. They cited his testimony both on direct and cross examination in which he said it was a very valuable collection and second only to the Bancroft collection. This, they maintained, did not constitute a conspiracy to defraud nor a misrepresentation.

BIG LOWDEN CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE AT LASALLE

REPRESENTATIVES FROM EVERY PRECINCT INCLUDED IN THE ORGANIZATION

LARGEST BODY IS FORMED THERE

Ogle County Farmer Has Many Friends Who Want Him Next Governor

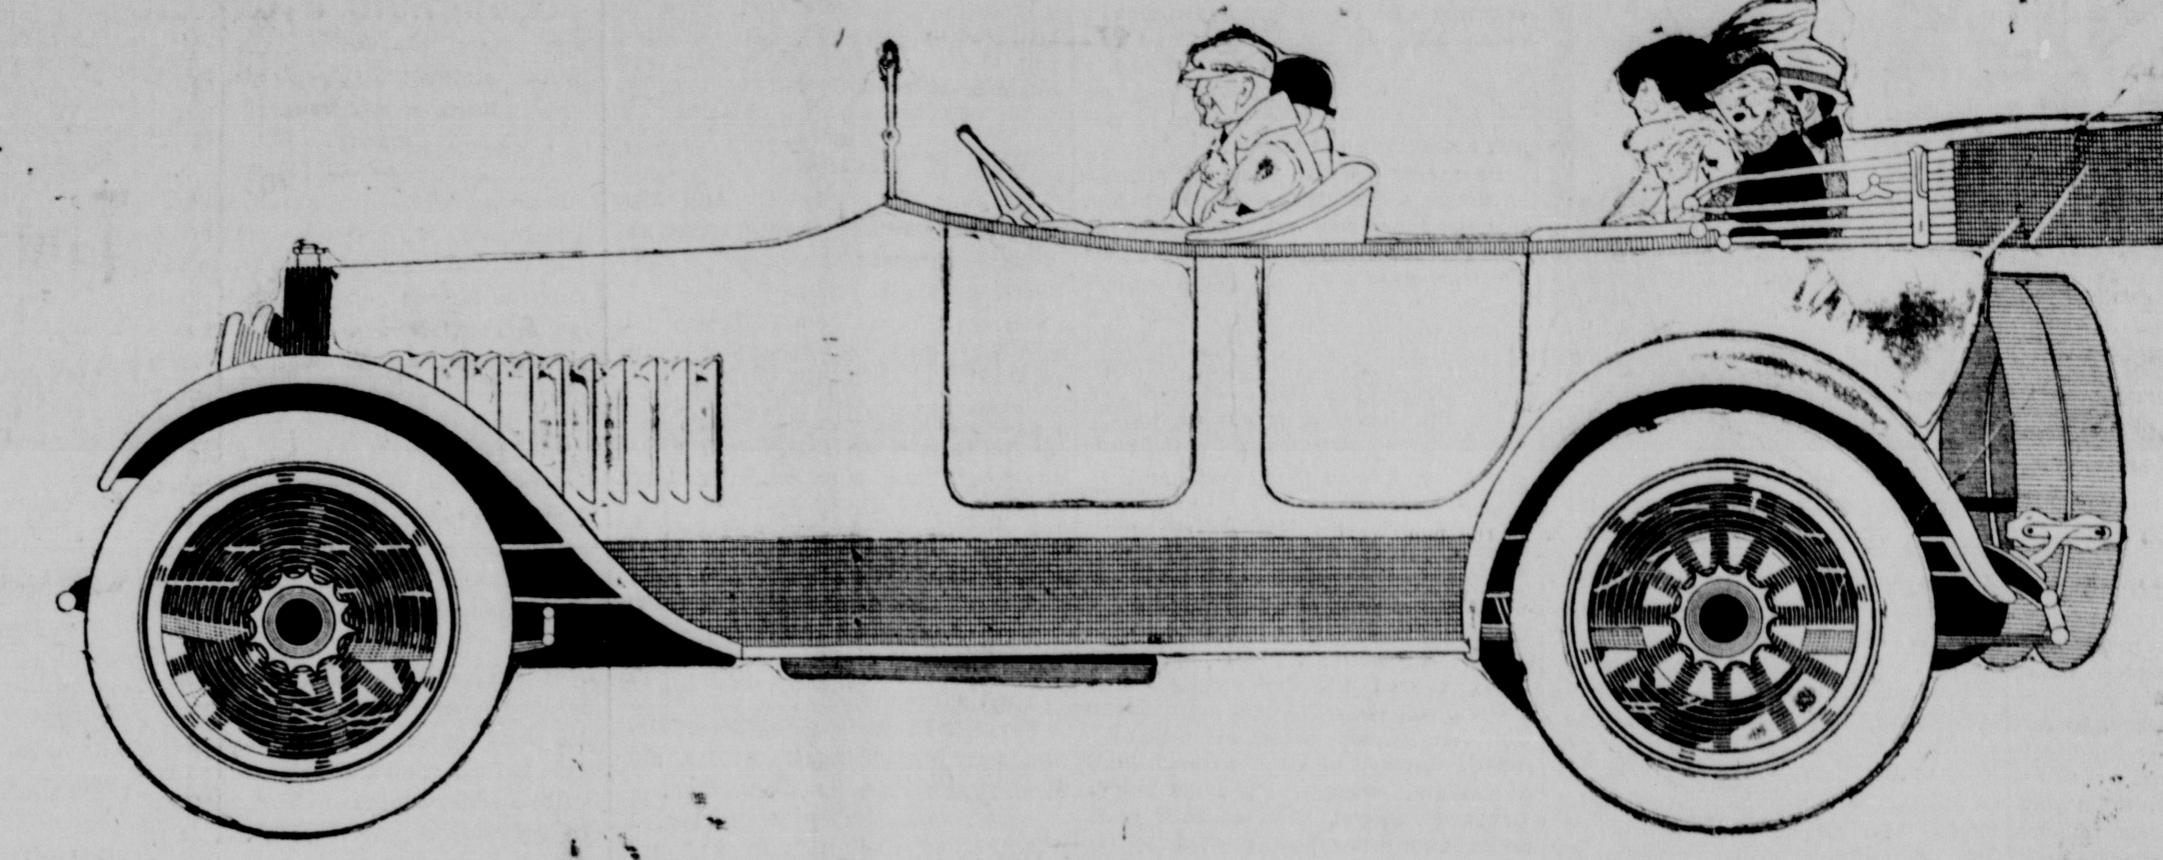

January, 22, 1916—The organization of the Lowden Campaign Committee composed of three hundred and fifty representative citizens of La Salle county, and representing every line of activity, was announced here today.

The object of this organization is to use every honorable means to promote the candidacy of Frank O. Lowden for the Republican nomination for governor.

The formation of this committee is the outgrowth of a meeting held at the Kaskaskia Hotel in La Salle a short time ago, at which it was proposed to organize a Lowden Campaign Committee with representation in every precinct in the county. The plant met with popular favor, many leading citizens offering their services, and not one person has been included in the list who has not subscribed to the purposes of the organization and agreed to serve therein.

The organization of such a formidable committee to further the interests of Mr. Lowden is something new in politics. Mr. Lowden is not a resident of this county. It would hardly be expected that there would be such an enthusiastic rally in his support. It is the first time in the history of the county that such an organization was possible. No candidate for governor or for the higher office of President has been able to boast of a volunteer organization such as this one.

The reasons why such a thing was possible are substantial ones not the outgrowth of a passing fancy or sudden rise to popularity on the part of Mr. Lowden.

CHALMERS CARS ARE RIVETED SECURELY TO THE REQUIREMENTS OF TOMORROW

Chalmers builds—I sell—you buy, not merely for today, but for tomorrow.

When I sell you a Chalmers car, I am looking into the many tomorrows that stretch ahead.

The struggle of motor engineering does not end with the production of speed, power, safety, comfort, beauty.

It is a battle with time itself.

Just how many years the Six-30 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers I am selling today for $1050 will stand up and obey your bidding, I don't know, Hugh Chalmers doesn't know. Nobody knows.

Time has not yet set an age limit upon this magnificent power beast.

The first Chalmers 30 was born back in 1909—seven years ago. And "Old Reliable," the first Chalmers 30 built, is still rolling up the mileage after over 300,000 miles of hardest road service.

The new Six-30 Chalmers with 3400 r. p. m. engine is a direct descendant of "Old Reliable."

But it is a greater and better car than its forefather. Into it has been bred and built a compact summary of motor eugenics.

This car delivers 45 H. P. at the former cost of 20 to 25 H. P. It gets twice the mileage per gallon of gasoline that many of its contemporaries get.

Here is high-speed, high power, high mileage, along with amazing fuel-thrift.

Engineering has taken a new, sharp turn. And Chalmers leads in wringing high speed and power from an engine with out sacrifice of operating economy.

The great 3400 r. p. m. engine is an insurance policy against the rising trend of gasoline prices.

Its engine strength is reflected in its car strength—it meets the shocks of hardest usage without faltering or complaint. Every gram of material is selected from the raw with always an eye to its lasting qualities. An army of 226 inspectors watches over every detail of construction.

Chalmers cars are riveted to the future with all the skill known to science.

Like Tiffany, like Steinway, Hugh Chalmers has lashed his product securely to the requirements of tomorrow.

PLAN INTER-CITY TOURNAMENTS

Freeport, Jan. 21—B. C. Trueblood was in Rockford yesterday attending a meeting of representatives of various golf clubs of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. An Illinois-Wisconsin Golf association was organized which has for its object the promotion of inter-city tournaments, and these clubs were represented: Rockford, Kishwaukee, Beloit, Freeport and Elgin.

Geneva, Mt. Carroll, Sterling, Woodstock, Dixon, Aurora, Belvidere, Rockford and Janesville country clubs will be invited to make the organization a 14-club association. A meeting will be held March 16 to receive their applications and then a schedule will be prepared.

If the high cost of automobile continues, it will soon be a luxury beyond the means of the average person.

For the last few weeks the price of gasoline has been on the increase until now it is up to the high mark and every autoist is very careful that none of his precious fluid is wasted.

And now comes the tire merchants with the announcement that owing to the small supply of rubber and cotton which goes into the manufacture of the cushions for the wheels, that from now on prices on tires will be increased 10 per cent.

—Need stationery of any kind —

letter heads, bill heads, envelopes? —

It could be held the year following when the golf association is better organized.

CHAPTER XXIX—Surprised by Mme. Omber, Lanyard hustles Lucy out of the way and manages to engage Mme. Omber in talk. The police come in.

CHAPTER XXX.

Many Things Happen Fast.

Incontinently—with as little cere mony as though the bullet had lodged in himself—Lanyard tumbled backward into the room, while to a tune of heavy boots clattering through the salons, two sergents de ville lumbered valiantly into the library and pulled up at sight of Mme. Omber, erect and composed beside her safe, and of Lanyard picking himself up from the floor by the open window.

Behind them Sidonie trotted, wring ing her hands.

"Madame!" she bleated—"they wouldn't listen to me, madame—I couldn't stop them!"

"All right, Sidonie. Go back to the hall. I'll call you when I need you. Good morning, messieurs!"

One sergeant advanced with a halting salute and a superfluous question: "Mme. Omber—" But the other waited on the threshold, barring the way.

Lanyard measured the two specula tively—the spokesman was old and fat, ripe for pensioning, little apt to prove seriously effective in a rough-and-tumble, but the second was young, sturdy, and broad-shouldered, with the poise of an athlete. Furthermore, he carried, in addition to his sword, a pistol naked in his hand. And his clear blue eyes, meeting the ad venturer's, lit up with a glimmer of invita tion.

For the present, however, Lanyard wasn't taking any. He met that chal lenge with a look of blank noncompre hension, folded his arms, lounged against the desk, and watched Mme. Omber acknowledge, none too cordially, the sergeant's query.

"I am Mme. Omber—yes. What can I do for you?"

The sergeant snorted.

"Pardon!" he stammered, then laughed as one who tardily appreciates a joke. "It is well we are here in time, madame," he added—"though it would seem you have not had great trouble with this miscreant. Where is the woman?"

He moved a pace toward Lanyard—handcuffs jingled in his grasp.

"A moment, if you please!" madame interposed. "Woman? What woman?"

Pausing, the sergeant explained in a tone of surprise:

"His accomplice, naturally! Such were our instructions—to proceed at once to madame's home, enter quietly by way of the servants' entrance—which would be open—and arrest a burglar with his female accomplice."

Again the stout sergeant moved to ward Lanyard; again Mme. Omber stopped him.

"One moment, if you please!"

Her eyes, dense with mystification and suspicion, questioned Lanyard, who, with a significant nod toward the jewel case still in her hands, gave her a look of dumb entreaty.

After brief hesitation, "It is a mis take," madame declared; "there is no woman in this house that I know of who has no right to be here. But you say you received a message? I sent none!"

The fat sergeant shrugged. "That is not for me to dispute, madame. I have only my information to go by."

He glared sullenly at Lanyard, who returned a placid smile which, despite what little hope was to be derived from madame's irresolute manner, masked a vast amount of trepidation. He felt tolerably sure Mme. Omber had not summoned the police on prior knowledge of his presence in the library. This meant, then, a new form of attack on the part of the Pack. He must certainly have been followed—or else the girl had been caught attempting to steal away and the information extracted from her by force majeure. Moreover, he could hear two more pairs of feet tramping through the salons.

Pending the introduction of these last, Mme. Omber said nothing more.

And, unceremoniously enough, the newcomers shouldered their way into the library—two men in citizen's clothing—one pompous body of otherwise undistinguished appearance, promptly identified by the sergents de ville as the commissaire of that quarter, the other a puffy mediocrity, known to Lanyard at least (if no one else seemed to recognize him) as Popinot.

At this confirmation of his darkest fears the adventurer abandoned hope of any aid from Mme. Omber and began to take unostenstious stock of his chances of escaping by his own efforts.

But he was altogether unarmed, thanks to his precipitate action in drawing the teeth of madame's revolver, and the odds were heavy—four against one, all four no doubt under arms, and two at least—the sergents de ville—men of sound military train ing.

"Mme. Omber?" inquired the com missaire, saluting that lady with im mense dignity. "One trusts that this intrusion may be pardoned, the circumstances remembered. In an affair of this nature, involving this repository of so historic treasures—"

"That is quite well understood, mon sieur le commissaire," madame replied distantly. "And this monsieur is, no doubt, your aid?"

"Pardon!" Monsieur le commissaire hastened to make his companion known. "M. Popinot, agent de la surete, who lays these informations."

With a profound obeisance to Mme. Omber, Popinot strode dramatically over to face Lanyard and explore his lineaments with his small, keen, shifty eyes of a pig—a scrutiny which the ad venturer suffered with superficial im perturbability.

"It is he!" Popinot announced with a gesture. "Messieurs, I call upon you to arrest this man, M. Michael Lan yard, self-styled the Lone Wolf."

He stepped back a pace, expanding his chest in a vain effort to eclipse his

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well, what a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnation.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowel the previous day's indigestible waste, gear bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.

If the Russians and British succeed in effecting a junction, which will be the first time in the war that the Russians will have fought alongside any of the allies, the Turks will be completely cut off.

The Turks are said to be without ammunition, and at some points their retreat has become a rout.

The Turkish army, which was driven from Sultanabad when the Russians occupied the city, is fleeing toward Burujird, to the southwest.
